

PB and Swabodhi's Strawbale
8 Tammar Place
Margaret River

We designed our home to have low running costs and to be comfortable to live in with no additional cooling in summer and minimal heating in winter. By building with straw bales and using clay, lime and earth render (from our block) we were able to do a lot of the labour ourselves. We added healthy home features of clay paint, tung oil, paddock jarrah and marmoleum flooring. It works.

Tingrith Meeting House
24 Hobson Road
Osmington

Built for workshops and holiday accommodation, this building sits adjacent to the state forest, in an organic farm, and follows the principles of Christopher Alexander's pattern language in its design.

Margaret River

SUNDAY SEPTEMBER 17

These houses are open 10am to 4pm

Honeyeater House
24 Honeyeater Loop
Margaret River

A little 'jewel' of a home...with just 79 sqm floor area, see how creative & thoughtful design translates into light-filled, energy efficient & enjoyable living...a unique, stylish & affordable alternative to the ever-expanding trend towards bigger builds.

one2six ashton
126 Ashton Street
Margaret River

one2six ashton aimed to make a contemporary architectural statement that suits and sits well in its natural and cultural context. We used this opportunity to showcase a sustainable, small footprint, highly functional, contemporary home and work place for us that is healthy, sustainable, practical, beautiful and harmonious.

Strawbale Cottage
11 Eldridge Ave
Witchcliffe

Three strawbale cottages on a 2000m2 subdivision plot, incorporating a self-contained pod, a bedroom pod and an artist's studio. Two of them added since last year's opening day. An owner-builder project, and still in progress, this build makes full use of sustainable materials (straw, lime render) and salvage materials, all situated around an inner courtyard and within a productive and decorative garden. With its own water tank and waste water system, this is a simple, sustainable and affordable home, that's cheap to maintain and very pleasant to live in.

Wilderness House and Ferart Studio
24-34 Wilderness Road
Margaret River

Experience the relaxed creative style of this bespoke, hand-built upcycled house, studio & workshop. Situated on 3ha of once overgrazed farmland, see affordable working examples of sustainable and regenerative living. It's the cover feature of the September edition of Owner Builder Magazine & has many additions since we opened for SHD in 2016.